THE GLEGHORN FAMILY IN AMERICA

Contributed by Mabel Abbott Tucker, Fayetteville, Tenn.

The earliest history of the Gleghorn family in America is very vague, but the following traditions have come down to us. We hope they serve to guide us all back to the ancestor who came to America, the place he landed and the year-and from whence he came.

There is the tradition that Matthew Gleghorn was brought to America from Ireland, to serve in the British army during the Revolutionary War. When these British soldiers saw how the Colonies were massacred by British General Tarleton's men in South Carolina, many of the soldiers changed their loyalties to the side of the Colonies and remained with the Colonies in South Carolina. It is not proved this was the way Matthew happened to remain in America, but it could be probable.

Another tradition is: When England and America were in the Revolutionary War, _____ Gleghorn from Ireland boarded a ship to come to America to fight. Before he sailed his sister reached out to him to bid him good-bye. He pulled her on the ship and she came over with him. While in the War, this Gleghorn had a mate called _____ Armstrong. When the war was over Mr. Armstrong married the Gleghorn sister and they moved to Illinois. This is all that is known about her.

This Gleghorn immigrant from Ireland is said to be the father of Elijah Gleghorn and his brothers. Some think this man was the Matthew Gleghorn above. If this man was old enough to fight in the Rev. War he must have been born about 1755 to 1760-making him a lad of 18 to 22 when he came to America.

The soldiers who fought with the colonists in the Rev. War received lands in Tenn. and Ky. for their service, as there was no money with which to pay them. If the soldier did not live to get the land, his children were entitled to it. This may be how it happened that the Gleghorn men came to and settled in Lincoln Co., Tenn. early in 1800.

The tradition is that Matthew Gleghorn lived in Chester County, South Carolina. A search of the records in that county may give much interesting information about the family there.

Matthew Gleghorn and wife (name unknown) said to have had 13 children-several may have died young. The following are believed to be his children:

1. Samuel Gleghorn b. 1794 m. Miss (Molly) Crawford
2. Matthew Gleghorn b. 1802 m. Martha Smith, dau. of Thos. Smith
3. James Gleghorn b. before 1800 m. Mary Johnson
4. Andrew Gleghorn b. bef. 1820 m. Rebecca Johnson
5. Robert Gleghorn b. bef. 1820 m. Ursuls Wilson
6. Elijah Gleghorn b. bef. 1820 m. Susan Wilson
7. William Gleghorn b. bef. 1820 m. Eliza Wilson
8. David Gleghorn m. Hulda Taylor in 1837. D. about 1845

BUCHANAN LETTER (Bethie & Andrew Buchanan to Addie Farquharson)

Contributed by Mabel A. Tucker, Fayetteville, Tenn.

Fayetteville March 7th 1863

Dear Addie

As I have an opportunity of sending a letter by Mr. Antony, who leaves for Port Hudson in a few days. I have concluded to write you a few lines this morning. I received your very welcome letter a few days ago. I was glad to hear you were well & more pleasantly situated. Mr. Buchanan intends writing to Gen Farquharson today & will doubtless give him all the news about the army etc. We have had a very disagreeable Winter-It has been raining almost constantly for three or four weeks-the roads are in a terrible condition. There are some six or eight wagon trains going constantly, which keeps them so cut up as to almost make them impassable. Lincoln county has certainly done her part towards supporting Bragg's Army. I would, at least, judge so from the quantity of provisions she has furnished. We let the government have all the hogs & wheat we thought we could spare last fall, but if necessary, we are willing to divide our rations with them if they will only stay with us in Tennessee. There are various opinions about them holding the state-some think they will be able others are of the opinion the enemy will come up the Tennessee river & try to flank our Army-but I presume Mr. Antony will be able to give you all the news about the movements of the Army as he has been up to the front lately. Provisions of all kinds are scarcer in this county than we all ever expected. I will give you the prices of some articles so you can form some idea of the scarcity-Flour is fifteen dollars a hundred, Bacon thirty five to forty cts pr pound, irish potatoes from 4 to 6 dollars pr bushel, butter one dollar pr pound, eggs one dollar pr dozen. These prices will not appear very extravagant to you all in Mississippi, but I can assure you we Tennesseans think them outrageous.

Our gardens will be late this spring on account of the wet weather. We are living principally upon Jole & turnip greens. I do not know how long the Joles will last as there was a man here yesterday examining the smoke house to see how much more meat we had to spare. It seems to me that the secretary of War & Joe John & Bragg will certainly see the importance of the state of Lincoln to the confederacy & will make a desperate effort to hold it.

Mary has been at Mr Wrights three or four weeks she went over there on a visit. Mira was taken sick & she had to stay. Andy & Holland are with me. Mary has been quite anxious for me to go a fishing, but I have not troubled myself as there is no particular necessity, yet-I have Mary with me & can attend to her, but my greatest anxiety & concern is about you-I hope Gen. Farquharson & the ladies you are boarding with will attend to your case. Your sisters are well, Lydia & Mrs. Jones sent word they were coming out to spend a day with me, Mrs.

Buchanan letter cont'd

Jones and Jane Rogers came out day before yesterday, but Lydia did not come. Addie I would like to send you some beef tongues & several little things by Mr. Antony, but he thinks it impossible to get transportation. He once thought of taking something for himself but I believe has declined. Elizibeth says you have been living on sugar & mollasses long enough, you must come home & try hog & hominy awhile. Tell Bobbie Andy says he & White are going out to bush-whack the squirrels this morning. I have your tenant, Mr. Biggs, for a near neighbour but have never called to see them. You said in your letter you expected to travel over the Confederacy before you returned. You must write & let us know to what corps, Division & Brigade you are attached so we can give the proper direction to our letters. Present my compliments to Gen Farqueharson -Elizabeth & the children send their love to you & Bobbie. Write again soon.

Yours,

Respectfully, Bethie Buchanan

(On back of same letter.)

some say Bob Fulton is near you if so till him to write to me

Friend Bob for I presume I have a right to call every man that fights and suffers as much for the confederacy as you have done my friend as paper is scarce I just write a few lines to let you know how times and things look to an old man hard of hearing and fairly in his second childhood money is plentier than ever you saw it here I think it would be a hard matter to lend even gold or silver at this time our corn crops were good and the Yankies had taken off many of our horses and mules and cattle and we sold our hogs before they had eat half the corn we intended for them and it seemed to be a prevailing opinion that the Yankies would be here again long before this time and they would rob us of corn meat & and people generally sold out pretty bare keeping only enough for a support and our army has taken it seems all or nearly all we have to sp__ for to feed cavalry and infantry we pay no taxes buy no store goods coffee sugar or salt and if one man owes another he does not want him to pay yet having no use for the money and from all I can see and hear it seems to me there will be a battle whenever the weather admits and taking every thing into consideration it would seem to be something like a Kilkeny cat fight
I want to say I have lived as well as ever I did and am not discouraged never expected to get off better than at present always calculated on such times as we have at present God help us

I am very respectfully your friend

Andrew Buchanan

NOTE: Andrew Buchanan was born Nov. 12, 1783. He died Nov. 20, 1868. His wife Bethiath Lynn White was born Aug. 7, 1784 and died May 20 1883. Both are buried at Rose Hill Cemetery.
